DESCRIPTION	This weekly hair treatment regimen sets out to do what a day at the spa does for us- revitalize, restore, and nourish. It cleanses away product buildup as well as dirt and other impurities that can cause dullness or limp locks of hair over time. Not only does this enhance shine, volume, and color, but it also makes styling products work better on your tresses! But how is something like this possible? Our bodies have an incredible built-in healing mechanism known as stem cells which naturally self-renewal releasing growth factors, fibroblasts, cytokines, etc. Fascinatingly enough, NASA scientists discovered culturing these same powerful stem cell molecules under zero gravity environment and produced a nutrient-dense 3-dimensional biomimetic suspension enhancing cellular interaction putting the body's own regenerative processes into motion - creating miracles with every use!
